In Japan, due to its limited space, many designers already started to incorporate glass into their design. The usage of painted glass and combination with mirror is one of the answer to make a wide space effect in a limited space of the toilet.

The reflection of the painted glass will brighten and give spacious feeling. you can arrange the depth of reflection with lighting play as well. Combination of both painted glass and mirror can strengthened the feeling.

Another benefit of painted glass is the maximum size it can give , which is up to 3048x2134mm in standard size. With this large panel, you can have less joints for wall cladding. Its more versatile to your design.

The color in the painted glass will dramatize the toilet space, each color will provide a different ambience, apparently white & black is the most common color, as the colors give clean, cool, calm, and refreshing ambience.

Other colors can also brighten the space, give the illuminating effects, and combination with mirror will help to widen the space.

However, the main feature of the painted glass is the ease of cleaning.
